

What's our emotional state right now?

What matters most, now and always?

Has anything core to our business changed?

What did we learn that should carry forward?

What did we learn that didn't work out so well that we should stop or change?

How are we going to bring it to life?